Immunization Administration by Pharmacy Technicians

In 2021, the Board created the Pharmacist Workload Advisory Committee (PWAC). The PWAC began meeting in October 2021 to review potential options to improve working conditions in pharmacies with the goal of protecting the health and safety of Ohioans.

During the initial meetings, committee members were asked to provide actionable policy recommendations that would be reviewed by the Committee. One of the policy recommendations was to allow pharmacy technicians to administer immunizations.

As a result of the recommendation, during the September Board meeting, the Board proposed the following rule:

- Rule 4729:3-3-06 – Immunization administration.

Comments on the proposed rule will be accepted until October 14, 2022. Click here to view the rule text.

Certified Pharmacy Technician Renewal - Closing Soon

Certified pharmacy technician renewal closes on Friday, September 30, 2022. As part of the renewal process, and as a condition of maintaining a valid Ohio registration, a certified pharmacy technician is required to maintain a pharmacy technician certification (ExCPT or PTCB).

A certified technician is not required to complete the ten contact hours of continuing education that is required for registered pharmacy technicians. The continuing education reported to the certification body (PTCB or NHA for ExCPT) fulfills a certified technician's continuing education obligation.

Failure to maintain an ExCPT or PTCB certification may result in disciplinary action by the Board. Therefore, all Ohio certified technicians should make sure they have valid certifications before renewing their registration.
